THE NEW NATIONAL GUARD BILL

WE herewith give a reprint of the new National Guard Bill for the benefit of our many readers who have not had an opportunity of reading the same. A great deal has been said for and against this measure. Following the article is an opinion given by Colonel C. Bow Dougherty, Ninth Infantry, one of the best informed officers in our State Service.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SECTION 1. The regularly enlisted, organized and uniformed active militia of the several States and Territories, who have heretofore participated, or shall hereafter participate, in the apportionment of the annual appropriation provided by Section 1661 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as amended, whether known and designated as national guard, volunteer militia, or otherwise, shall constitute the organized militia. The organization, armament and discipline of the organized militia of the several States and Territories shall be the same as the organization, armament and discipline now or hereafter prescribed for the regular and volunteer armies of the United States.

SECTION 2. Whenever the United States is invaded or in danger of invasion from any foreign nation, or of rebellion against the authority of the Government of the United States, or the President is unable with the other forces at his command, to execute the laws for the Union in any part thereof, it shall be lawful for the President to call forth, for a period not exceeding nine months, such number of the organized militia of the State or States most convenient to the place of danger or scene of action as he may deem necessary to repel such invasions, suppress such rebellion, or to enable him to execute such laws, and to issue his orders for that purpose to such officers of the militia as he may think proper.

SECTION 3. The Secretary of War is hereby authorized to issue, on the requisitions of the Governors of the Several States and Territories, such number of United States service magazine rifles and carbines with bayonets, bayonet scabbards, gun slings and web belts as are now required for arming all of the organized militia in said States and Territories, without charging the same or the cost or value thereof against the allotment to said State or Territory out of the annual appropriation provided by Section 1661 of the Revised Statutes as amended, or requiring payment therefor, and to exchange, without receiving any money credit therefor, ammunition suitable to the new arms, round for round for ammunition suitable to the old arms theretofore issued to said State or Territory by the United States, provided that said rifles and carbines and other property shall be receipted for and shall remain the property of the United States and be annually accounted for by the Governors of the States and Territories, and that each State and Territory shall, on receipt of the new arms, turn in to the Ordnance Department of the United States Army, without receiving any money credit therefor, all United States rifles and carbines now in its possession.

To provide means to carry into effect the provisions of this section, the necessary money to cover the cost of the arms and equipments, to be used hereunder is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SECTION 4. Whenever it shall appear by the report of inspections, which it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to cause to be made at least once in each year by officers detailed by him for that purpose, that the organized militia of a State or Territory has complied with the provisions of the first section of this act, and is sufficiently armed, uniformed and equipped for active duty in the field, the Secretary of War is authorized to pay the Treasurer of such State or Territory, on the requisition of the Governor thereof, so much of the allotment to such State or Territory out of the said annual appropriation under Section 1661 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, as shall be necessary for the payment, subsistance and transportation of such portion of the said organized militia as shall engage in actual field or camp service, allowing to the said militia while so engaged the same pay, subsistence and transportation as officers and men of corresponding grades in the regular army are entitled to by law.

Upon the requisition of the Governor of any State or Territory the Secretary of War is authorized to detail officers of the regular army within any of the States or Territories for instruction, inspection, or any other duties as may be approved by him.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of War is hereby authorized to provide for participation by any of the organized militia of any State or Territory, on the request of the Governor thereof, in the encampment, manoeuvres and field instruction of any part of the regular army at or near any military post or camp of the United States. In such case the organized militia so participating shall receive the same pay, subsistance and transportation as is provided by law for the officers and men of the regular army, to be paid out of the appropriation for the pay, subsisance and transportation of the army.

SECTION 6. Whenever any officer of the organized militia shall attend and pursue a regular course of study at any military school or college of the United States Army, such officers shall receive the same travel pay, subsistence and quarters, or commutation of quarters, as an officer of the regular army would be entitled to if attending such school or college under orders.

SECTION 7. For the purpose of securing a list of persons specially qualified to hold commissions in any volunteer force which may hereafter be called for and organized under the authority of Congress, other than a force composed of organized militia, the Secretary of War is authorized from time to time to convene boards of officers at suitable and convenient army posts in different parts of the United States, who shall examine as to their qualifications for the command of troops, or for the performance of staff duties, all American citizens who shall have served in the regular army of the United States, in any of the volunteer forces of the United States or in the organized militia of any State or Territory, or who shall have attended or pursued a regular course of instructions in any military school or college of the United States Army, or shall have graduated from any educational institution to which an officer of the army or navy has been detailed as superintendent or professor pursuant to law. Such examinations shall be under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War, and shall be especially directed to ascertain the practical capacity of the applicant. The record of the previous service of the applicant shall be considered as a part of the examination. Upon the conclusion of such examination the board shall certify to the War Department its judgment as to the fitness of the applicant, stating the office, if any, which it deems qualified to fill, and upon approval by the President the names of the persons certified to be qualified shall be inscribed in a register to be kept in the War Department for that purpose. The persons so certified and registered shall, subject to a physical examination at the time, be entitled to receive commissions pursuant to such certificate in any volunteer force hereafter called for and organized under the authority of Congress, other than a force composed of organized militia, provided that no such persons shall be entitled to receive a commission as a second lieutenant after he shall have passed the age of thirty; as first lieutenant after he shall have passed the age of thirty-five; as captain after he shall have passed the age of forty; as lieutenant colonel after he shall have passed the age of fifty; or as colonel after he shall have passed the age of fifty-five. And provided, that the appointments in this section provided for shall not be deemed to include appointments to any office in any company, troop, battalion, battery or regiment of the organized militia which volunteer as a body, or the officers of which are appointed by the Governor of a State or Territory.

SECTION 8. For the purpose of providing a volunteer force of trained men which shall be ready for immediate service whenever called for and organized under authority of Congress, the Secretary of War is authorized to enroll not exceeding a hundred thousand men, who shall have served in the regular or volunteer armies of the United States, or in the organized militia. Such enrollment shall in each case continue for a period of five years. The persons so enrolled shall undertake to report once in each year at places to be specified, and under the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of War, and each person so reporting shall receive the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) to be paid out of the appropriation for the pay of the army. Whenever a volunteer force shall be called for by authority of Congress, and the members of any troops, batteries, battalions or regiments of the organized militia of any State or Territory shall enlist in the volunteer army in bodies, such companies, troops, batteries, battalions or regiments shall be received as the first organization of such volunteer force. Whenever a volunteer force shall be called for by authority of Congress, exceeding the number of companies, troops, battalions, batteries and regiments of the organized militia of the States and territories which shall enlist in bodies pursuant to the provisions of Section 6 of the Act entitled "An Act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establisment of the United States in time of war, and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898, the persons so enrolled or so many thereof as shall be required, shall be organized in the manner provided for in the organization of the volunteer force by Section 12, of the Act entitled "An Act for increasing the efficiency of the army of the United States, and for other purposes," approved March 2, 1899, provided that no person so enrolled shall be prevented thereby from serving in the organized militia of any State or Territory.

SECTION 9. All the volunteer forces of the United States called for by authority of Congress shall, except as hereinbefore provided, be organized in the manner provided by the Act entitled "An Act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of War and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898.

I do not share the same view of the present National Guard Bill that some of the Pennsylvania officers have. I think it is one of the best bills ever prepared for the benefit of the National Guard. While it might not be all that we could desire, still there is this one thing in it, it is a greater recognition of the National Guard by the general government than ever before has been.

I had a little talk in New York with Colonel Young, of Chicago, who was a delegate to the National Guard Association Convention which considered this new bill, and after my talk with him and with others who were delegates, I am convinced that it is a good one, and should receive the hearty support of the National Guard. The objection that is made to the system of having a reserve line of officers and men to draw upon to create a volunteer army has behind it a motive which I believe to be a good one.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War there was a rush for volunteer staff positions by politicians and favored sons of those who had some sort of a pull. This registered list of experienced officers would enable the President and Secretary of War to have a record of competent men to select from, and would place in the hands of the War Department efficient material for staff positions that could be drawn on immediately. This feature of the bill being a pet scheme of the Secretary of War, even though impracticable to some extent, is a rider to the bill, which to my mind is not to be feared, and is not particularly objectionable. True, it has the appearance of being a sort of paper army, which in case of war might prove impractical to mobilize, but the salient feature of this part of the bill is more for the purpose of creating, as I stated before, a body of men of experience to be drawn upon for extra officers than for an army to be formed from it.

Under Section 2 of the Act, the National Guard gets recognition as a second line of defense, which is a desideratum. I do not share the opinion of others, who think that the National Guard should not be subject to the call of the President. I believe that the dignity of the Guardsman is raised by the fact that an opportunity is presented to him to become a soldier of the general government under the call of the President, as provided for in this bill. This was proved by the declarations of the individual soldiers made at Mt. Gretna, in this State, when the Guard of Pennsylvania was called upon to volunteer, in May, 1898. At that time 86.7 per cent. of the enlisted men of my own command volunteered for the war. I do not believe that the National Guard of the State of Pennsylvania, together with other States, should not be exactly what the name implies, a National Guard in the fullest sense of the word. I believe that the possibility of men having an opportunity to serve the general government will be an incentive rather than a drawback to our service. One great essential feature of the bill is the recognition which it gives the National Guard, and that is a thing which we desire.

GENERAL SAMUEL D. OLIPHANT

Few people who see General Samuel D. Oliphant, Clerk of the United States Circuit Court, bright and early every morning, walking to his office in the Post Office Building, would believe that he is 77 years of age. Very gray hair and mustache are the only indications of advancing age. His step is firm, his carriage erect and his figure trim; the cane he usually carries, is twirled lightly, and is but seldom used for support. He has resided in Trenton since 1874, when he was appointed to the position he yet holds by Judge McKennan, a friend in the days of his boyhood.

General Oliphant was born in 1824 in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, where his ancestors long resided. After being graduated from the Jefferson College, in Cannonsburg, Pa., he returned to Uniontown, where he was born, and practiced law until the opening of the Rebellion, when he organized a company and was made its captain. He served with distinction during the war, and after being advanced to the colonelcy of his regiment, was placed in command of the 140th United States Volunteers, whose fame is recorded in glowing terms in history. For superior ability he later received a commission as general. He was the senior officer on duty in Washington when President Lincoln was assassinated, and was one of the officers sent into the coal regions of Pennsylvania to suppress the notorious Molly Maguires. General Oliphant sustained several wounds during the Rebellion.

He is the father of ten sons, all of whom are living. He never had any daughters. After the war, he decided to move to Princeton, where the boys were educated. He took up the practice of law in 1867, and it was shortly thereafter, when he was appointed Clerk of the Circuit Court, that he moved to Princeton.

General Oliphant has twice been married. His first wife was Mary Campbell, who resided in the General's native town. Nine of the sons were born here, the youngest was born in Princeton. Soon after moving to Trenton the mother died. Later General Oliphant married Beulah A. Oliphant, a New Jersey woman, who is distinguished in society and in fashionable orders, to which many women of old and famous families belong. Mrs. Oliphant is the regent of the Oliphant Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the membership of this Chapter consisting solely of representatives of the Oliphant family. All of the sons of General Oliphant are leading men in the financial and business world.

IT IS more than likely that fourteen companies of infantry will be disbanded before the next encampment. This may mean that some of the regiments now having twelve companies will go back to their original number, eight. Colonel Hoffman's Eighth Infantry, which at the present time consists of nine companies, may lose one or gain three, but it is certain this command will retain its regimental organization.

THE re-election of General Willis J. Hulings to the command of the Sixteenth Infantry places him at the head of the list of regimental commanders in the State. The seniority of Colonels Burchfield and Hulings has been a disputed question for many years, both having been elected on the same date. The Second Brigade, and particularly the Sixteenth Regiment, have every reason to feel proud of Colonel Hulings, as he was the only field officer in the State of Pennsylvania during the Spanish-American War to receive actual promotion as a general officer, returning to his native State as Brigadier General, United States Volunteers.

THE companies of the Sixth so far inspected, with the exception of Company "A," at Pottstown, show a great deficiency in guard duty. Several of the line officers, when questioned about properly instructing their men in this branch, indifferently stated that they had not been furnished with Guard Manuals, and, therefore, were not responsible for this defect. It might be mentioned here that the purchase of Guard Manuals or any other text-books is a proper expenditure from the annual appropriation, and it is the duty of each company commander to see that his men are thoroughly posted in this important work.

ONE of the progressive companies of the Second Brigade is Captain Albert G. Beeson's Company "C," Tenth Infantry, located at Uniontown. It has the full quota of membership and is prepared to put up a first-class inspection. Captain Beeson and his men have been untiring in their efforts to secure new quarters, and it is now expected that June 1st will see them properly housed. The Armory will have a 40-foot front and will be 110 feet long. In addition to the drill space, suitable quarters have been provided for the officers and men. The quartermaster's department will have a complete set of lockers properly ventilated, gun racks and other modern armory conveniences.

THE following dates have been set apart for the inspections of the Fourth, Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth Regiments:

Fourth Regiment—Company B, March 21; D, March 22; I, March 31; A, April 1; C, April 2; K, April 3; G, April 4; F, April 5; H, April 8; E, April 9.

Eighth Regiment—Company E, April 10; H, April 11; K, April 12; B, April 14; I, April 15; D, April 16; G, April 17; C, April 18; A, April 19.

Ninth Regiment—Company L, May 1; A, May 2; E, May 3; B, May 6; D, May 7; K, May 8; F, May 9; G, May 10; H, May 12; C, May 13; M, May 14; I, May 15.

Twelfth Regiment—Company C, March 4; F, March 7; E, March 8; B, March 10; K, March 12; I, March 14; A, March 15; D, March 17; G, March 18; H, March 19.

Thirteenth Regiment—Company K, February 27; D and F, February 28; I, March 1.

Personal Mention

Lieutenant Maurice Clemens has been elected Captain of Company I, Thirteenth Regiment, vice Horn, resigned.

The friends of Colonel Charles M. Clement, Twelfth Regiment, are booming him for Lieutenant Governor.

Sergeant George B. Konkle has been promoted to First Sergeant of Company D, Twelfth Regiment.

Major William S. Millar, Assistant Adjutant General of the Third Brigade, is still confined to his bed with erysipelas.

Major J. Ridgway Wright, formerly inspector of the Third Brigade, was defeated for Mayor of Wilkes-Barre at the recent election.

Captain Edward J. Taylor, late of Company G, Twelfth Regiment, was re-elected City Treasurer of Williamsport by a handsome vote at the recent election.

Lieutenant Whitaker is the popular candidate for the captaincy of the "Wheatley Cadets," Company "D," Sixth Infantry, stationed at Phoenixville, vice Captain Walters, promoted to Major.

The following promotions have been made in Company I, Twelfth Regiment: Corporal George W. Bower to Sergeant; Privates Rudolph C. Dymich and John A. Barnie to Corporal.

Major Walters, who is the owner of the Armory building which the company occupies, expects to make quite an improvement in the drill room by dispensing with the stage, which is now used for entertainment purposes.

Owing to the election of three new officers in Company "I," Thirteenth Infantry (Easton City Guard), the inspection has been postponed to a later date. It will be remembered that this company headed the Division last year for efficiency. It would seem to be Captain Clemons's purpose to hold that distinction.

Colonel James B. Coryell, formerly of the Twelfth, now of the Sixth Infantry, is regarded as a strong candidate for Lieutenant Governor. It is a singular coincidence that Colonel Clement, who succeeded Colonel Coryell in command of the Twelfth, has also been mentioned as a prospective candidate.

NOTES

Company "A," of the Third Regiment, which is an offshoot of the Weccacoe Legion, will celebrate its 102d anniversary on April 11th. The survivors, who served in the Mexican War, are expected to be present.

Company "H," 6th, which is located at Media, made anything but a favorable impression at this inspection, and we would not be surprised to see an order issued in the near future recommending its disbandment.

The Infantry Corps State Fencibles, under command of Major Thurber T. Brazer, will celebrate their eighty-ninth anniversary by a street parade on Wednesday, May 21st. They will be accompanied by their Old Guard of nearly one hundred members, in command of Major William A. Witherup.

Three companies of the Philadelphia Battalion of the Sixth are doing very good work, and it is confidently expected that they will put up a very excellent inspection. The Armory advantages that this Battalion enjoys are the best in the city, and should be an incentive to draw some of our best young men to its ranks.

Hampton Battery B will hold a progressive euchre and reception for the benefit of the Hunt Armory Association. It is expected that all plans for the alteration of the building will be completed by April 1st.

Corporal Fred. C. Farquharson was appointed a sergeant, vice Stewart to second lieutenant. Private James Thompson was appointed corporal, and Private J. Lavaille Stuart was appointed quartermaster sergeant. Private John S. Purucker has been recommended for the quartermastership of the battery, with the rank of second lieutenant.

COLONEL THEODORE BURCHFIELD, Retires.

The commission of Colonel Theodore Burchfield, Fifth Regiment, expired February 18th, and he declined to be a candidate for re-election. Colonel Burchfield was the senior colonel in the State service, ranking from February 18, 1887. He became first sergeant of the Keystone Zouaves, now Company D, Fifth Regiment, June 5, 1871, and has been in continuous service as enlisted man, lieutenant, captain, lieutenant colonel and colonel since that date. He served during the Civil War in Company F, 126th Regiment, P. V. I., and during the Spanish War at the head of the Fifth.

At a meeting of the officers of the Regiment at Altoona, February 17, Lieutenant Colonel Rufus C. Elder was unanimously elected Colonel, and Major James S. Bare Lieutenant Colonel. Captain Samuel H. Hughes, of Company F, Indiana, received the majority of the votes for Major.

The following resolution was then presented by Captain H. S. Taylor, of Company B, and unanimously adopted by the officers:

WHEREAS, Colonel Theodore Burchfield has not desired a re-election to the colonelcy of the Fifth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, and has thus terminated his career with the regiment, be it

Resolved, That we, the officers of the regiment, deem it proper at this time to express our great appreciation of his services, that through his long service, both in the National Guard and in the service of the United States, he has earned our admiration for the soldierly qualities he has displayed, and in parting with him now as an officer of the regiment we do at this time extend to him our best wishes for his future welfare and our regret at his retirement.

Colonel Elder entered the regiment July 17, 1877, as a private in Company G. He has served as first lieutenant, captain, major and lieutenant colonel. During the Spanish War he was the lieutenant colonel of the Fifth.

ADJUTANT GENERAL A. C. OLIPHANT

(Illustration on frontispiece)

General A. C. Oliphant was born in Uniontown, Pennsylvania, March 25, 1860. In 1867 his family removed to New Jersey, where they have resided ever since. The General is the sixth of a family of ten sons, all of whom, with the exception of one, who is pursuing a prosperous career as a civil engineer in Michigan, are successful business and professional men in Trenton. He is a son of General S. Duncan Oliphant, who served with distinction in the Civil War and is now Clerk of the United States Circuit Court for the District of New Jersey, a position which he has occupied for over thirty years.

In the case of General Oliphant and his son, Alexander C. Oliphant, the Adjutant General of New Jersey, there is represented probably the only instance in the United States where father and son are generals and both in active service. Thomas Selfridge, Sr. and Jr., are both rear admirals in the United States Navy, but the elder had long retired from active life when the appointment of his son was made.

General A. C. Oliphant received his early education in the State Model School at Trenton and the Hill School at Pottstown, Pennsylvania. His first active military training was received while a member of Company A, Seventh Regiment, National Guard of New Jersey, during the railroad riots in August, 1877, and was with his company at Phillipsburg when that important strategic point was guarded by the Provisional Brigade under the command of Major General William J. Sewell. Upon his return from this duty he received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, from which institution he was graduated in 1881. He at once received orders to join the U. S. S. Lancaster, the flagship of the European Squadron, then commanded by Captain (now Rear Admiral) Bancroft Gherardi. General A. C. Oliphant was in the force that was landed at Alexandria in July, 1882, to repulse the anticipated attack on that city by the Egyptian rebels.

In 1883, upon passing his examination for promotion to the rank of ensign, he was honorably discharged, with additional pay, by reason of the action of Congress in reducing the number of naval officers of all ranks. In 1886 he was appointed major and engineer on the staff of Major General William J. Sewell, then commanding the Second Brigade, National Guard of New Jersey, and later was made colonel and inspector of division.

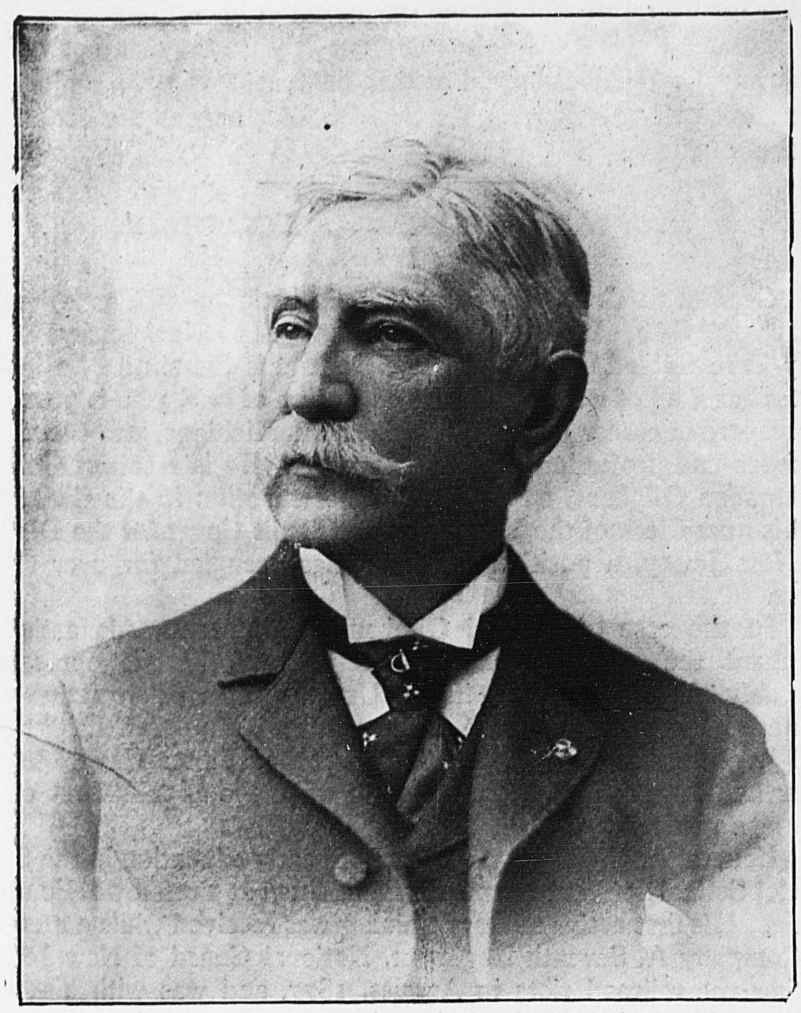
At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, General A. C. Oliphant applied to Washington for a commission in the volunteer service. At the suggestion of his predecessor, the late Adjutant General William S. Stryker, he was specially detailed as Acting Aide-de-Camp and Military Secretary to the Hon. Foster M. Voorhees, Governor and Commander-in-Chief, on duty at the State Headquarters at Camp at Sea Girt, and assisted in the enlisting and organizing of troops called for by the National Government in that war.

By reason of his special training and his wide acquaintanceship with officials prominent in military and civil life, he was able to render most valuable service to the State and its officers.

At the conclusion of the war, Governor Voorhees, in recognition of his experience and efficiency, appointed him Assistant Adjutant General of the State.

Upon the death of General William S. Stryker, who had served as Adjutant General for thirty-three years, the Governor commissioned Colonel Oliphant to fill the vacancy. The appointment was a most popular one, and was on January 22, 1901, unanimously confirmed by the vote of every member of the State Senate.

General A. C. Oliphant is a son-in-law of United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, and his social prominence and military and naval connections particularly equip him for the office of Adjutant General. His salary is $2,500 per year.



GENERAL JAMES F. RUSLING.

General James F. Rusling was born at Washington, Warren county, N. J., April 14, 1834, but removed to Trenton in 1845. He was sent to Pennington Seminary in 1850, and graduated with first honors in 1852. Immediately afterwards he was admitted to Dickinson College, and graduated there with honors in 1854, and received his degree of A. M. there in 1857 and of LL. D. in 1890. Soon after graduating he was elected Professor of Natural Science and Belles-Lettres at Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa., and served there from 1854 to 1857. At the same time he read law, and was admitted to the Pennsylvania bar in 1857 and to the New Jersey bar in 1859. He settled in Trenton in 1859, and continued to practice law there until August, 1861, when he entered the Union army as First Lieutenant, Fifth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. He served all through the Civil War, in the Army of the Potomac, to the fall of 1863; in the Department of the Cumberland to summer of 1865, and in the United States War Department to September, 1867, when he retired as Brigadier General, U. S. Volunteers (brevet), "for meritorious and distinguished services, war of 1861." He was thus five times promoted, on the recommendation of such officers as Generals Mott, Hooker, McClellan, Thomas, Sherman and Grant, and served in succession at regimental, brigade, division, corps, army, department and general U. S. army headquarters—a record unequaled in kind by any New Jersey officer. In 1869 he was appointed United States Pension Agent for New Jersey by President Grant, and re-appointed until 1877, when the New Jersey agency was abolished by consolidation with others. Since then he has been engaged in general law practice and real estate business.

Of literary proclivities, he is also the author of several books, including "Across America; or, the Great West and the Pacific Coast," "Men and Things I Saw in Civil War Days," etc.

There is a vacancy in the position of Quartermaster Sergeant of the Twelfth Regiment, and also in Battalion Sergeant Major.

Preliminary inspections will be held by the battalion commanders of the Twelfth prior to the spring inspection.

LIEUTENANT COLONEL JAMES S. KIGER.

Deputy Adjutant General of New Jersey.

Lieutenant Colonel James S. Kiger, Deputy Adjutant General of New Jersey, was born at Salem, New Jersey, August 18, 1842, and was educated in the public schools of his native city. Prior to the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion, 1861-1865, he was engaged in the dry goods and clothing business. At the beginning of the war he entered the service as a private in the Salem Light Artillery, Salem Brigade Militia, April 25, 1861; warranted corporal April 25, 1861; sergeant, December 16, 1861. At the age of nineteen he entered the volunteer service, War of the Rebellion, as a private of Company A, Twelfth Regiment, Infantry, New Jersey Volunteers, August 11, 1862, for three years; joined the regiment at Camp Stockton, Woodbury, New Jersey, and was mustered with the command into the service of the United States September 4, 1862, as a warranted sergeant; took part in the Antietam campaign, September, 1862, the regiment having been assigned for duty guarding the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with station at Ellicott's Mills, Maryland. In December, 1862, the regiment was ordered to the front, and joined the Army of the Potomac at Falmouth, Virginia. The regiment was assigned to the Second Brigade, Third Division, Second Army Corps. By reason of serious injury preventing active service in the field, he was ordered to Trenton, New Jersey, for recruiting, escort and general service. In October, 1863, he was transferred to Veteran Reserve Corps, and assigned to duty as first sergeant, Company K, Twenty-first Regiment, on station at Trenton. He acted as adjutant of the post several times. He was honorably discharged at Trenton, New Jersey, July 6, 1865, at the close of the war.

Colonel Kiger entered the service of New Jersey by appointment on the clerical force of the Clerk of the Court of Chancery October, 1865. On May 1, 1868, he received an appointment as clerk in the office of the Adjutant General, and was assigned to duty compiling the records of the State pertaining to the Revolutionary War and the War of the Rebellion. On the 23d of May, 1881, he was appointed and commissioned Deputy Adjutant General, with rank of Lieutenant Colonel, and was appointed Chief Clerk of the Adjutant General's Office January, 1890, still holding said position.

Through thirty-five years' experience with military affairs, Colonel Kiger is familiar with the history of the State from the Colonial period to this date. He has the confidence of the Adjutant General and commands the respect of the entire National Guard of the State.

Mr. Hancock, one of the best-known and popular public men in New Jersey, was born in Trenton, October 19, 1854. He received his education at the State Model School and Trenton Business College. In 1871 he entered the live stock and provision business with ex-Senator John Taylor, of Trenton, and remained with him nine years. This was his first experience in the business world. Mr. Hancock was one of the organizers of the Crescent Pottery Company, of Trenton, which was formed in July, 1881. This company was absorbed by the Trenton Potteries Company in May, 1892, when Mr. Hancock was made vice-president of the new organization, which position he still holds. He was elected a member of the Trenton Common Council from the Second Ward in 1888, and served his entire term of three years as Chairman of the Finance Committee. It was during this period that Chambersburg and Millham were consolidated with Trenton, when a re-appraisement of all the city property was necessitated, and also a sewer system was established, a public park purchased and a paid fire department created. The management of the finances of the city in those years required rare skill and experience in order to be successful, and Mr. Hancock acquitted himself with much credit in the performance of the duties assigned to him. He was elected State Comptroller by a joint meeting of the Legislature in 1894, and re-elected in 1897 and 1900, each time for a term of three years. He resigned his office in February, 1902.
